PRIMARY CARE PHYSICIANS SAY MOC DOES NOT MAKE THEM MORE EFFECTIVE

by CHRIS MAZZOLINI Content Manager

Physicians are highly dissatisfied with the maintenance of certification process and question its efficacy, according to a reader poll conducted by Medical Economics.

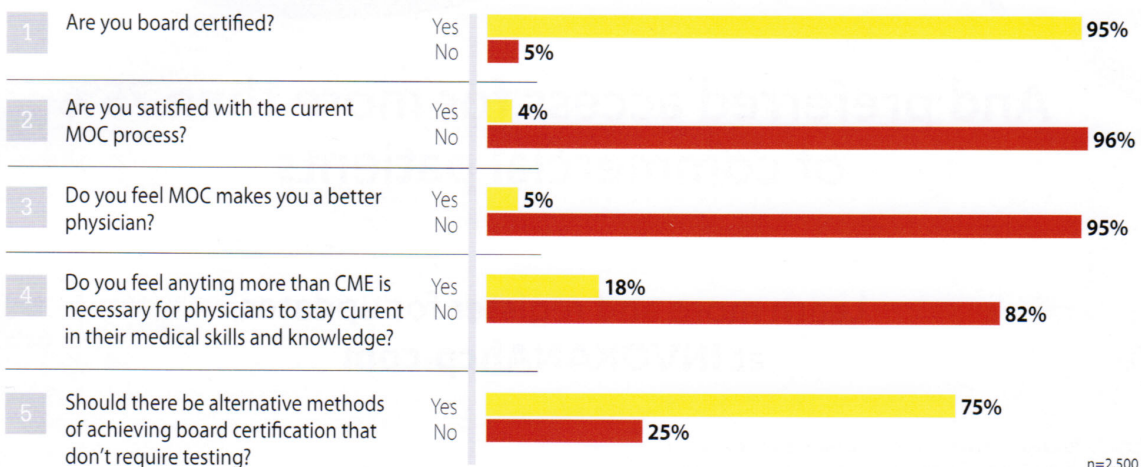

ABOUT THE POLL

The survey was conducted via web poll between April 22 and April 29. The five-question survey was deployed to physician readers of Medical Economics via our email newsletters. Survey results were obtained from 2,500 physicians, who also were given an option to leave written comments.
